TRIBUTE TO JAMES J. HILL

James J. Hill was a philosopher, a student of current affairs, a helpful citizen, a philanthropist. He was a democrat—truly a man of the people—and his aphorisms and witticisms brought him close to the heart of the people. He possessed a distinct and understandable personality, and was understandingly liked and admired by the American people.

He was also a great capitalist and the builder of an empire. Had he not attained fame and fortune in his life work his personal qualities, however admirable, would have been known not by a nation but only by a fortunate circle of intimates. But on the other hand the magnitude of his financial success would alone have sufficed to make him the dominant figure he was at the time of his death. His opinion and advice would not have been sought and honored on all matters of public import. Other men who have done as much in the world of finance have remained aloof from the greater world of human doings, and have left behind them impressive names but few personal memories.

Every American felt acquainted with James J. Hill. There was a deeply human quality in his kindly smile and keen observations. People came to know that he hated automobiles and loved trips. Advice and admonition from such a man came as from a disinterested and friendly equal; it carried no condescension. It may be truthfully said that the Hill individuality has counted for more in the public estimate than the stupendous Hill achievements. It has almost obliterated the memory that these achievements brought him into conflict with the laws of the United States. He may have been a financial czar, but his despotism was benevolent and tempered by downright and honest democracy.

The example of James J. Hill merits careful study. First by patience, then by audacity, and finally by plain common sense and the rare power of definite decision he elevated himself from an origin devoid of advantages. Never a power for righteousness or for superhuman wisdom he attained a place of universal respect which must have carried its own reward.—Plain Dealer.

CAPTURED TROOPER ESCAPES MEXICANS

Confirms Reports of Concentration of Carranza Troops on Pershing's Flank.

El Paso, May 31.—Carranza soldiers captured Corporal James Peters of the 10th cavalry half a mile from the American camp at Naniquipa. He died him hand and foot and sent him north to Villa Ahumada. The other night when his guards were asleep Corporal Peters worked himself free from the ropes and made his way across country to Juarez. The military authorities believe the soldier's story and have so reported to Gen. Funston.

Confirms Previous Reports. Peters was taken before Gen. Bell and gave a hair-raising account of his experiences. The adventures of the corporal had for Gen. Bell, however, an interest entirely secondary to what Peters was able to report about Carranzista troop concentration movements in the state of Chihuahua. The prisoner confirmed the previous reports of an unprecedented gathering of forces on Pershing's flank.

Marathon, Tex., May 31.—Hello-graph pans and acetylene gas lamps are now in operation by signal corps detachments at Boquillas and Glenn Springs, two points below Marathon in the Big Bend country that have no other means of communication. Orders Report Investigated. El Paso, May 31.—Gen. Funston has directed a thorough investigation of a report that Mexican consuls north of the border have notified their people there will be hostilities within the next few weeks.

The report grows out of the demand that all Mexicans in the United States register at the consulates. In El Paso and other border towns those who failed to comply with the proclamation have been listed and are being visited by representatives of the Carranza government. They are being told, it is declared, that war is unavoidable and it is their duty to register.

Consul Garcia is said to have told intimates the main purpose of the registration was to ascertain with which side the sympathies of the Mexicans residing in the United States would be in the event of an uprising.

The American military authorities are greatly exercised over the activities of the Carranza consuls, which they call political incendiarism.

STILL POUNDING AWAY

GERMANS THROWING MASSES OF TROOPS AGAINST FRENCH; BULGARS ARE ACTIVE.

Amsterdam, May 31.—Fresh troops in large masses are being thrown by the Germans against the French lines northwest of Verdun and Gen. Nivelle's forces have been compelled to give ground.

The weakest point in the French defense appears to be in the neighborhood of the Cumieres, between that village and Dead Man's hill to the west. The German attacks apparently were equally violent along other sectors of the front west of the Meuse.

Advices from the Balkans show a continuation of Bulgarian activity along the Macedonian front, following the recent occupation of forts on Greek territory in the vicinity of Demir-Hissar.

AMEND THE NAVY BILL

HOUSE REPUBLICANS SUCCEED IN INCREASING NUMBER OF SUBMARINES TO FIFTY.

Washington, May 31.—The Republicans of the house succeeded in having an amendment adopted authorizing 50 submarines in the appropriation bill instead of the 20 recommended by the naval affairs committee. The vote on the amendment was 114 to 104.

Hope for adding two dreadnaughts to the program of increasing the number of battle cruisers from five to six and the number of scout cruisers from four to six, was dashed by the Democrats mustering sufficient strength each time to defeat the Republican amendments.

PRESIDENT DELIVERS ADDRESS AT ARLINGTON

Pleads for Undivided Loyalty From All to Country; 'America Must Come First.'

Washington, May 31.—President Wilson delivered a Memorial day address here in which he defined the spirit of America, warned citizens of foreign birth not to set themselves against the purposes of the nation, called upon young men to perform voluntary military service and defended his recent suggestion for an alliance of nations to preserve peace.

He spoke at Arlington National cemetery before an audience made up largely of Civil war veterans, who applauded him vigorously.

While he declared he had no harshness in his heart for Americans of foreign birth and expected them still to love the sources of their origin, the president said, "America must come first in every purpose we entertain, and every man must count upon being cast out of our confidence, cast out even of our tolerance, who does not submit to that great ruling principle."

Speaking of America, made up of all the peoples of the world, as the champion of the rights of mankind, he said:

"We are not only ready to co-operate, but we are ready to fight against any aggression, whether from within or without. But we must guard ourselves against any sort of aggression which would be unworthy of America. We are ready to fight for our rights when those rights are coincident with the rights of man and humanity."
